APPROPRIATION INCREASED

Plans for the Reorganization of the Army Knocked Out in Senate.

Washington, April 3 .- Attacks made plans for the reorganization of the Huse and contained in the army appropriation b'll, during the hearings on m'lltary affairs, were largely recommittee in striking out the prosions.

The proposed reorganization, Secrery Stimson said, would be "very disitrous to the army, would be stops the rear instead of to the front," ind "the legislatin as a whole would the army more larm than good,"
to protested that "the army ought to to be made a football of polics," thereby hitting the carrying of the Democratic economy program into lies," thereby hitting the carrying of the Democratic economy program into the army appropriation bill. He prohounced the specific sections passed by the House for army reorganization as "crude." Some of it, he said, was 'unwarranted and based on false premises," and one provision he pronounced "absurd."

When the army appropriation bill was reported to the Schatz yesterday afternoon by Chairman du Pent, of the Senate Committe on Military Afficiars, the hearings that were held on it were made public, and thereby Secretary Stimson's attacks on the Hay secrganization plan, adopted by the House, because known.

had never even been suggested to the department before it was put into the ion on the floor of the House.

The abolition of many small army posts and forts, as proposed in the flouse bill, was also pronounced impracticable by the secretary. He did say that consolidation in larger posts was a desirable policy, but pointed out that the consolidation could not be accomplished by one sweep or by a stroke of the pen.

The Senate committee had stricken out the provisions for the abandonment of the posts and forts and thus obviated a light that was sure to be made on the floor of the Senate in behalf of most of them had the provision remained in the bill.

Besides striking out practically all of the proposed new legislation looking to army reorganization in the bill, the Senste committee added materially to the total carried in tas bill. As it passed the liouse the bill carried $57.777.257, and the Senste committee's amendments increased the total to $55.714.711, which is about $3.000.009 greater than the appropriations for the current fiscal year.
